Vegetable of the Month:

RADISHES!

Radishes are very exciting for gardeners, because they are some of the first seeds that sprout! It is nice to see bright green growing out of your soil after a frozen, brown and white winter. Did you know that radishes come from the same plant family as broccoli and cabbage?

TIP: Sometimes radishes can be spicy, so have a grown-up slice them very thinly if you're trying them for the first time. They come in all kinds of colors, so experiment and see which one you like best!
